

The 7 choices of SUCCESSFUL WOMEN

One Day Workshop

"The time is right for women to make their mark in this male-dominated world. Today, in a much different environment to the past, we have all the tools and policies that actually promote and support our initiatives."
Dr Anna Mokgokong

Globally, business is adapting to the importance of opening leadership doors for top women talent to enter and drive business into the future.

The opportunities are out there but need to be grasped.

Today's women are confronted by CHOICES on how to respond to the world they help shape every day.

How do I balance the different roles I play every day?

How do I, with confidence, take my place in and offer leadership in my workplace?

How do I respond to the stereotypes I face every day?

How do I make good choices about my future?

This workshop is about making the choices that will help you develop a sense of fulfilment and joy at work that once experienced, you'll never want to let go of. Making a difference is addictive.
